NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

This fall in the general election the voters of Texas will be given the opportunity to vote on letting the Legislature rewrite the state's constitution. This will be one of many amendments to our present patched up constitution that will come before the voters.

This is one amendment that we feel needs to be passed and if it is passed we have a few suggestions for the Legislature when it comes time to write a new constitution.

We feel that it has become obvious that our representatives need to be paid better than we are currently paying them and at the same time we need to curtail their almost unlimited expense accounts.

And one of the best ways we can think of to increase their salaries and at the same time not increase the cost to the state too much is to cut down on the number of people we send to Austin.

Texas has always had two Houses, the House of Representatives and the Senate. This of course, is patterned after our federal system of government and probably served a good purpose in the beginning.

Like the federal system, ours was based on the idea that the House of Representatives would be based on population and the Senate would be based on geographic areas. This works on the federal level and worked on the state level until the federal courts got into the act.

Now that the Supreme Court has ruled that both houses of the state Legislature must be based on population, we can see no need to have the two houses. It would seem to us that you could just eliminate the State Senators and add that money to the monies you pay the State Representatives.

Under the old system regional areas were protected by having representation in the senate but this is no longer the case. Now if you are going to be out voted in the House you are likely to be outvoted in the Senate.

Either your State Senator votes along with your State Representative on any given local issue, or statewide issue for that matter, or else one of them is not representing you. And in most cases it will be the Senator who fails to represent you because he represents too large an area.

A good case in point is the new district that Taylor County finds itself in. Their Senator must represent both Abilene and Waco, two cities and areas that have very little in common. Each of these two cities will have their own representatives in the House where their interests can be protected but their Senator is likely to find himself caught in the middle on a great many issues.

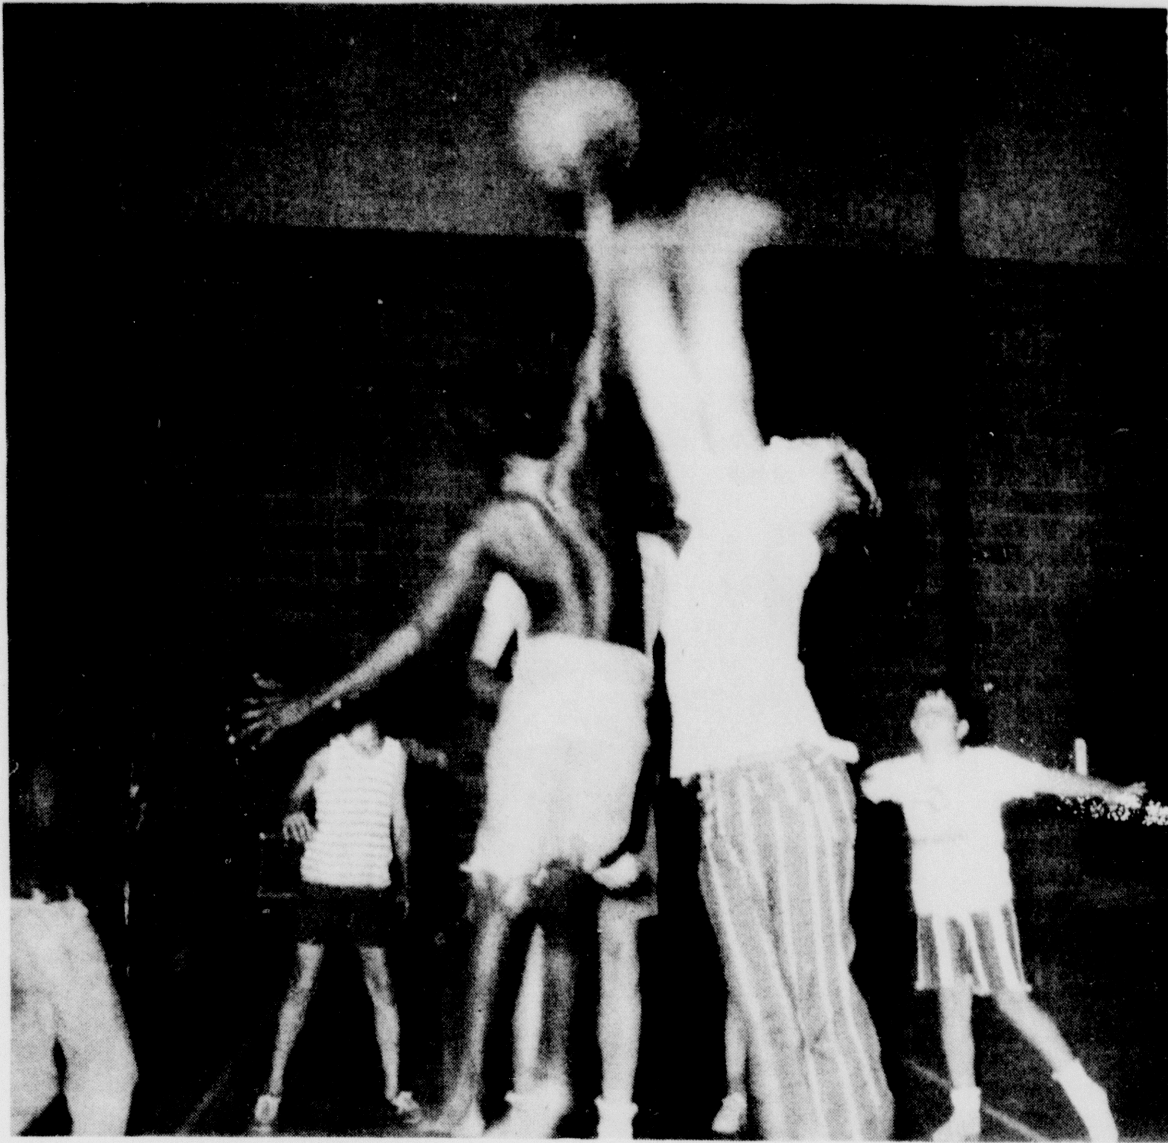

It just seems to me that the people would be represented just as well or maybe even better if we just did away with the Senate and apply this money to the Representatives.

Not only would we save an individual salaries but we would save the expense of operating the Senate, which is considerable.

A number of states have had only one House for a great many years and when you take out the regional concept of the Senate you just about eliminate its only purpose.

We would also like to see our representatives paid a certain amount to operate their office, which would include their salary. Then if they want to put a bunch of friends or relatives on the state payroll it would just come out of their own pocket. You could forget worrying about who is hiring whose kids, wives, or other relatives and just judge them on what kind of job they are doing for those they are serving.

The way things are now, we are not even paying our representatives enough to pay their motel bills while they are in Austin.

Board Raises District School Taxes By 9¢

The Board of Trustees of the Hamlin Independent School District voted in regular session here Monday evening to increase the tax rate of the local district to meet the needs of the coming year. The board increased the rate from a total of $1.41 to $1.50 per $100 valuation.

The bond rate was increased from 25 cents to 28 cents and the local maintenance rate was increased from $1.16 to $1.22. This is a 6.3 percent increase over last year.

Part of the increase in salaries for the coming year is for an additional bookkeeper which will be required for the new system required by the state. The board authorized the new position in the Monday meeting but have not hired the new employee yet.

HIS FAVORITE...

Ah! Just smell that . . . This is his favorite . . . prepared just the way he likes it. He's in for a real treat. Everyone has certain foods that they prefer over others and this is his. Many people have favorite scriptures . . . these words can excite and satisfy the soul as certain foods satisfy the taste palates. The soul needs nourishment too. The church offers the best opportunities to satisfy your spiritual needs.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

J. A. Claims He's Distrubed Over State Head's Lack of Pull In Washington

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although it could be chewing tobacco.

Dear editor:
I knew this was the day of the oppressed minorities but didn't know how widespread the thing had gotten till I read an account of the National Governors' Conference meeting in Houston last week.

Governors now consider themselves an oppressed minority. It's a fact. According to the Governor of Montana, the national government has gotten so large that governors have a hard time getting heard in Washington. "I can say all I want to by myself and no one will listen," he said at the conference. "The states are getting to be like the many Indian nations of a century ago: they're all listening to the Great White Father in Washington."

Come to think of it, there's something to this. I can name the governor of this state, but blamed if I can think of the name of the governor of Oklahoma or New Mexico. And if a man wants something done about something in his area, who does he write? He writes his Congressman or Senator. Who else? Who ever heard of writing his Governor? Maybe occasionally they'll write their state legislator, but the Governor?

This seems a shame. Men work hard to get elected governor, spending five or six times what the job pays, and the rest of the people ought to pay more attention to them. They ought to at least send them carbon copies of all letters they write to Washington.

Incidentally, the main topic of discussion at the Governors' Conference was revenue-sharing. They want Washington to split up some of the tax money it's getting and give it to the states to spend as they please.

This is a good idea, as everybody knows the states certainly have a pressing need for more money and if I was a governor I'd sit down right now and write my Congressman about it. Write it in longhand on tablet paper. They say they pay more attention to simple letters that come straight from the hearts of unknown constituents.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Oil, Gas Production In Fisher Nears $25 Million

Sale of Fisher County oil and gas production accounted for $24,843,916 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn.

In producing 6,604,854 barrels of crude oil and 10.5 billion cu. ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 60th in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $23,249,086; natural gas value was $1,594,830.

The county is among 190 Texas counties with oil and gas production value topping $100,000, although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Fisher County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced," Robert A. Buschman, Association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

The Association study showed that Fisher County farmers, ranchers, and other royalty owners received $3,105,490 as their share of the production.

The county's wells generated $1,069,458 in crude oil production taxes for state government and $119,612 in state taxes on natural gas. Oil and gas producers spent $808,148 in drilling 38 wells in the county last year, $285,948 of which was lost in drilling 18 dry holes.

Texas Employment Commission figures showed 52 oil and gas industry employees in the county last year, with an annual payroll of $388,924.

Processing plants also added to the county's economy. The Oil and Gas Journal lists two natural gasoline plants, with a daily combined capacity of 11 million c. ft.

Beef Production Course Set At Avoca June 19-22

A beef Production Short-course for Adult Farmers and Ranchers will be held June 19 through June 22 in the Lueders-Avoca High School Cafeteria in Avoca. All meetings will begin at 8:00 p.m. DST.

Frank Litterst, Beef Production Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A & M University will be the instructor for the course.

Mr. Litterst indicates that the beef production short course will deal with methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the ways of producing the kind of beef that the homemaker wants to buy.

He also states that the course will include such important topics as cattle reproduction and pregnancy diagnosis, selecting bulls and replacement heifers, calf crop percentages, and supplemental winter feeding. The course can be changed to meet the wishes and interest of farmers and ranchers enrolled.

A charge of 2.00 will cover all four meetings. The course is sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture Department.

"We hope that farmers and ranchers interested in the production of beef cattle will make every effort to attend these series of very informative meetings," states Don Welch, Vocational Agriculture Teacher, Lueders-Avoca High School.

150 Attend First Reunion Of Letz Family

By Bernice D. White
Approximately 150 people gathered at the Old Glory Sons of Herman Hall last Saturday afternoon and evening for the first Letz Family reunion.

They were the descendants of the late Mrs. Ida Letz and their families. Mrs. Letz had twelve children, eight boys and four girls, all are still living. Seven of the eight boys live in the Old Glory Community. They are Herman, Martin, Bernard, Charlie, Tony, John and Alfred. Adolph lives near Stamford. The four girls all married and moved some distance away, but all were here for the reunion. They are Mrs. Emma Welch of Alamogordo, N. Mex.; Mrs. Erwin (Minnie) Korff of Woodbury; Mrs. Cecil (Lena) Weaver of Jacksonville; and Mrs. Eugene (Ella) Vanderworth of Houston.

Other descendants came from Oklahoma City Mesquite, Austin, Haskell, Midland, Fort Worth, Lubbock, Abilene, Aspermont, Rule, Sagerton, Stamford, Wellwood, Corpus Christi, Denton, Roscoe, Ozona, Palestine, El Paso, Odessa, Las Cruces, N. M., Houston, and perhaps some other towns.

Herman Letz was the oldest member to attend the reunion. The youngest was Lori Letz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Letz of Lubbock.

The Letz's plan to meet again in three years. Officers elected are Lisbon Letz, Chairman, Danny Letz, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Buddy Letz, Secretary, and Allen Letz Treasurer.

The Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation approved allocation of $3.77 million for construction and renovation of facilities at Rusk, Terrell, Big Spring, Corpus Christi, Kerrville and Vernon.

AUSTIN — "LEADERSHIP IS HELL."

That quote from a political leader came to mind during the 64th annual National Governor's Conference in Houston last week.

It's darned tough to serve as a public official these days.

Not just presidents, vice-presidents and candidates for presidents have their lives threatened - but governors and candidates for governor face physical threats these hectic days in America's political history.

This fact was brought to mind by the extremely tight security measures at the host hotel for the National Conference for state chief executives.

Security police, Texas Rangers, and state patrolmen almost outnumbered the governors, aides, newsmen and guests who were allowed to observe the proceedings at the important annual function of state heads of government.

Mrs. George Wallace, wife of the Alabama Governor, had six security men surrounding her when she moved around the corridors of the hotel.

When Vice President Spiro Agnew arrived, Secret Service men were all over the place. Even the hotel employees wore photo ident badges — reminiscent of defense plant and Navy installation days of World War II. We heard no complaints — except from one elderly hotel janitor who kept picking up walky-talky conversations between the security police on his hearing aid.

The three-day program of the state's chief executives was an "economic war" of sorts.

Principal topics of the conference revealed that financial problems are their top concerns — as they reviewed revenue sharing with the Federal government, financing of elementary and secondary education and funding the "war" against crime and drugs.

Host Governor Preston Smith and his staff and a hospitable Houston made the serious problems easier to study with a well-rounded entertainment program for the Governors, their families and staffs. An outdoor pool-side Texas western party, (appropriately by the world's largest swimming pool, according to the hotel staff), an excellent transportation organization delivering guests to all Houston entertainment and tourist facilities — and a formal ball with Duke Ellington's Orchestra completed the lighter side of the serious meet.

Other important topics of interest to Texans covered at the Conference were: diversification of industry to rural areas, a resolution requesting the appointment of a farmer as next Secretary of Agriculture of the United States; a NASA economic impact report for the states and the role of the states in national growth patterns.

National political intrigue made the Conference more interesting with visits from Sen. George McGovern and Sen. Hubert Humphrey — and the appearance of Mrs. Wallace. SPECIAL SESSION MEETS — The Legislature convened in special session at midweek under lame duck leadership in both houses and the governor's office.

Gov. Preston Smith, defeated in his bid for re-election, pledged to offer a 1973 budget which would require no new taxes and, indeed, to allow no consideration of taxation.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, also defeated for governor, said Smith should show lawmakers how he proposes to trim appropriations.

House Speaker Rayford Price was defeated in his home district, as was Rep. Bill Finck of San Antonio, chairman of the budget-writing House appropriations committee.

Legislative Budget Board — which includes Barnes, Price and Finck among its members — calculated that even a "tight" 1973 budget would require $89.2 million in new revenue.

After a day-long session, the Board concluded its staff would just have to get together with Smith and see what he had on his mind.

The LBB staff-drawn budget called for $828.2 million in spending during the next fiscal year — or $89.2 million less than the revenue forecast.

Virtually certain to land on the special session agenda is new state officials' code of ethics legislation. Barnes said he will press for such a bill, and a House committee prepared its own version.

LEGISLATURE ALTERED — Primary elections assured a drastic shakeup among rank and file members of the legislature as well as the top leadership.

There will be at least 76 new members in the House of Representatives — a majority. The turnover rate is the highest since 1953 when 88 freshmen representatives took office. The November general elections may remove a few more of the incumbents, and no more than 74 present House members are assured of returning.

The Senate turnover rate is almost high. At least fifteen of 31 senators will be freshmen next year, and Republicans conceivably could gain another place.

Former House Speaker Gus Mutchers was among the veteran incumbents defeated.

Defeat of Price in the House set off another scramble for speaker. Rep. Price Daniel of Liberty claimed he already had the job racked up with 89 to 100 votes. Rep. Frank Calhoun of Abilene challenged him last week, expressed doubt that Daniel had anywhere near a majority and said he will begin his own campaign with about 50 dependable votes from moderates and conservatives.

PRIMARY CHANGES URGED — Primary election costs topped estimates by nearly $400,000, and a better, cheaper system has to be found, according to Secretary of State Bob Bullock.

Bullock advocated future primary elections to be held and financed through county clerks' offices, with single polling places serving both major parties.

Such a system, said Bullock, would reduce primary costs by at least a third and increase efficiency. Bullock said he distributed $1.6 million to Democratic committees and $396,709 to Republican groups to pay the bulk of local primary costs.

SHORT SNORTS

More than $8.9 million in bonds for construction at state universities in San Marcos, Huntsville, San Angelo and Alpine were sold to Texas Commerce Bank of Houston and another $5 million will be sold later this summer.

The State Department of Public Welfare will conduct a recertification drive to survey every applicant for Aid to Families with Dependent Children benefits in an effort to "cleanse" Texas assistance rolls of ineligible recipients, according to Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell.

HAMBURGERS—

The Great American Favorite

Regardless of its foreign origin — and the hamburger is supposed to have originated in Hamburg, Germany, in 1891 — there is no question but what it has become as American as the Fourth of July and apple pie. There are so many variations, perhaps not including those you make yourself, that complete books have been written on the subject.

No matter how you serve your hamburgers, it's important to realize that their finished goodness depends on the beginning, the base from which you build. In other words the bun itself, because no matter what the filling, it misses being a mouth-watering delight if the bun is not all that a good bun should be — fresh, flavorful and high quality.

Many youngsters, cranky in their eating habits, prefer their hamburger with just a meat patty and perhaps a little mustard or catsup, but for those teenagers and adults who are venturesome, there are myriad ways to "build" a hamburger and with some, the more we put in, the better it gets. They might enjoy only a few additions such as lettuce and tomatoes with mayonnaise or relish or they might go all the way with a slice of cheese, chopped onion or a nice large slice of onion, catsup, lettuce and tomato and dill pickle slices. The result is a concoction so large one wonders how the mouth might get around it, but one that's taste-tingling and practically a meal in itself.

Here's a combination you may not have tried:

CHEESEBURGER TOWERS

2 pounds ground beef
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons prepared horseradish

THE HAMBURGER — As American as July 4th and apple pie. It can be dressed up to suit any occasion or taste, such as the pizza burger shown on the left featuring tomato sauce, mozzarella cheese and frankfurter slices.

salt and pepper
6 slices process American cheese
6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

Combine meat, onion and seasonings; shape into 12 patties a little less than ½-inch thick. Cook in lightly greased skillet about 6 minutes, turning once — broil if you prefer. With cookie cutter, cut a 2-inch round from center of each cheese slice. Place half the meat patties on toasted buns; add cheese slice filling the hole in the cheese with catsup, mustard or barbecue or hamburger relish. Top with remaining meat patties and cheese rounds.

Or try a Smoky Cheeseburger: Prepare 6 meat patties and while they cook, combine one 5-ounce jar smoky cheese spread, 1 tablespoon pickled relish and 2 teaspoons prepared mustard; spread on top half of 6 split hamburger buns. Broil 1 to 2 minutes or till cheese bubbles and buns toast. Put buns together with a meat patty in each.

Have you ever considered the versatility of the hamburger bun for other purposes? Split and toasted, it makes a great base for creamed foods or Sloppy Joes to be eaten with knife and fork. Because of the shape, what better for a fried egg and ham sandwich? With weiners, clip at one-inch intervals almost through so they will curl up as they cook and they are just right for a bun, with a center which can be filled with sauerkraut for a great taste combination or baked beans with a topping of hog dog relish.

And for individual pizzas, they're perfect. Try this variation:

PIZZA BURGERS

1 pound ground beef
1½ cups chopped onions
1 6-ounce can tomato paste
1 teaspoon crushed oregano
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
6 hamburger buns, split, toasted and buttered, onion rings or sliced Mozzarella cheese, optional.

Cook beef and onions in skillet until beef loses its red color and onions are transparent. Add tomato paste and seasonings. Bring to boil; simmer for 15 minutes. Spoon mixture over bun halves. If desired, slip an onion ring or cheese slice on each bun.

Or make a frankfurter pizza, spreading the toasted bun halves with tomato sauce, adding a touch of oregano, a round of Mozzarella cheese and top with sliced franks which fit the bun halves so well. Run under the broiler until cheese melts and franks brown slightly.

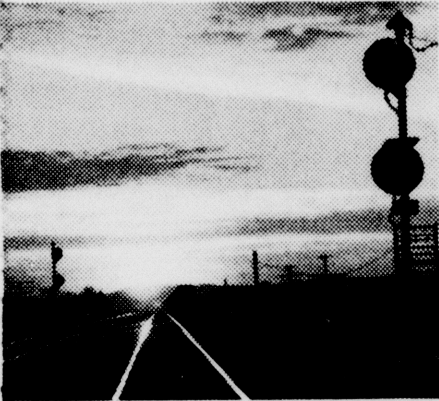

No matter how you serve them, a supply of good hamburger buns fresh from your favorite grocer for planned or unexpected uses can make up into lots of good eating with your own creativity the designer and producer.

For those who say the railroads are at the beginning of the end, here's a progress report from Santa Fe that says it's much, much more like the end of a beginning.

MORE POWER

We're adding 52 new giant diesels and rebuilding 50 older units to provide a locomotive fleet producing over 3,850,000 horsepower.

MORE CARS

1910 additional cars are coming in 1972, including 100 giant refrigerated hopper cars for in-bulk movement of potatoes, oranges and other perishables.

MORE TERMINALS

Santa Fe's new million dollar rail and truck terminal has now been completed at Houston, Texas to meet expanding truck, Piggy-Back and container traffic.

BETTER SERVICE

Run through trains with connecting railroads link — east, west, and southwest and save hours moving through Santa Fe's electronic classification yard in Kansas City.

BETTER PIGGY-BACK

We're expanding Piggy-Back and container service all along the Santa Fe to handle increasing domestic and international shipments.

BETTER IDEAS

An expanding microwave network linked to our data system for car tracing and locomotive utilization, and plans for the development of a unique coaxial train for moving containers are just a few of the new ideas at work on the Santa Fe.

MORE and BETTER are key words at Santa Fe. What we're doing, is why we're saying, rail service is still one of the most efficient ways to move freight. What we're spending says so too: over $100 million this year in railway capital expenditures. One billion in the last 10 years. Two billion since World War II.

The railroad industry and the Nation need sensible transport regulatory policies — administered with an even hand. We can take it from there — into a new era of railroading. Still think the railroads are at the beginning of the end? For Santa Fe it's more like the end of the beginning!

Santa Fe — The complete transportation company moving by rail, truck, air freight, pipeline and land development.
